

Dragonfly

The Memorial Gardens were the inspiration for my sewing. I frequently walk through them and in the summer there are many dragonflies and damselflies emerging. It reminds me how important fresh water is to all creatures and how important it is to look after and care for this natural resource. Most dragonflies only live for a week, some live over a month. To make my dragonfly I used offcuts of material that had been used many times before.